Financial consultant and recovery service company helping consumer avoid bad debt before, during and after they find themselves in debt. Our document review service helps people avoid the pitfalls of credit hype by reviewing, deciphering and expaling in plain English what the credit application is really saying and how it will affect them financially. For people who are in debt over their heads we offer credit debt reduction, finance rate reduction, Dispute resolution, cease and desist letters and more. To help people get a better handle on debts issues we offer debt education programs. For business owners we offer the same services plus our S.A.F.E division offeres Certified Fraud Examiners for catching employees who steal.
